

“Getting BALDWIN Service to optimize the blanket cleaning process professionally was certainly worthwhile”

*Beni Kiser, Press Process Manager,
Espace Media printing center,
Berne, Switzerland*

“Our aim when we had the process optimized was to completely eliminate the residues from the blankets and the cylinder gaps during every cleaning cycle and to achieve better results with extended cleaning intervals – without having to prolong the washing times of our ImpactGlobal blanket cleaning system.”

“The BALDWIN service engineer analyzed the problem extensively, then proceeded to systematically optimize the cleaning process – in particular by making selective adjustments to the cleaning programs. I’ve seldom experienced such professionalism on the part of a service expert. He went about his work absolutely efficiently and delivered exactly the result we were seeking.”
